Preamble

Welcome readers of this report. This Report gives details of the activities that Top Notch-CDI implemented during the financial year 2021/22 guided by our master strategic plan. The scale of activities in 2021 was limited because of the challenges triggered by the global COVID-19 pandemic that disrupted economies and affected community interventions. Nevertheless, Top Notch-CDI was still able to operate even at the height of the pandemic following the national guidelines/SOPs on COVID-19. This report is a public accountability and transparency document and enhances stakeholders' confidence and trust in our work.

Over this year, due to limited resources, we limited the scope of work in Lira, Hoima and Wakiso districts. We hope to strengthen our presence in Rwampara district in the coming year and other districts subject to availability of resources. Over the year, we achieved and learnt a lot together. We will utilize lessons to do better for our communities in the next financial and programme year.

Top Notch -CDI appreciates the support from all well-wishers, stakeholders including host districts, Top Notch host and collaborating partners particularly CCYA, Wakisa Ministries and JEFORD; civil society, and the private sector for their contributions towards what we accomplished. On behalf of management, I also wish to thank all Top-Notch staff who worked tirelessly to achieve organizational objectives. It's our anticipation that we will continue walking the journey together in the coming year. I believe that the information provided will be put to use by different stakeholders to make better the communities they serve.

- 1) Interventions are demand and evidence based driven,
- 2) Leverage partnerships, alliances and collaborations
- 3) Use holistic, multi-sectoral and integrated approaches,
- 4) Age specific, cultural and gender sensitive programming
- 5) Community led programming and implementation.

2.0 Top-Notch Community Development Initiative accomplishments

The following were accomplished during the year.

2.1 Recruitment and induction of volunteers

Top Notch-CDI recruited a team of energetic volunteers through a competitive process. The team were taken through a rigorous induction of four months at the secretariat after which they were posted to their respective districts, two in Lira and two in Hoima. Ahead of the recruitment an advert was put up and circulated through social media pages. A panel of 5 highly experienced representatives from different CSOs including the partners was constituted to carry out the recruitment process.

2.3. Introduction to the districts

Top Notch-CDI formally introduced herself to the districts. The field teams paid Courtesy to the different offices of the district; Chairpersons LC5, District Community Development Officers (DCDO) and Residence district commissioners (RDC) during which they were enlightened to the organization Objectives. The district leadership welcomed Top Notch-CDI and played to work together in the interest of communities.

2.4. Building partnership and collaborations

During the year Top Notch-CDI ventured in building partnerships and collaboration with local organizations in the different districts she works in. Memoranda of Understanding were signed between Wakisa Ministries and existing partnerships were strengthened with partners-Concerned Children and Youth Association (CCYA) in Lira district and Joint Effort for Rural Development (JEFORD) in Hoima western part of Uganda.

The partnerships have so far yielded positive results as Top Notch-CDI received support in different forms that has enabled stability in the districts amidst limited resources. The partners in Hoima and Lira have hosted Top Notch CDI and supported the settlement of staff in the districts.

Top Notch-CDI held a collaboration meeting with Wakisa ministries where the two discussed possible ways of working together. It was noted that Wakisa Ministries support young mothers who get pregnant out of sexual exploitation but does not take care of the needs of the children when they are borne. It was agreed that Wakisa Ministries would share information with Top Notch -CDI so that the children born out of sexual exploitation would be supported through among others formal, education, psychosocial support and health.

Top Notch-CDI is maximizing benefits as the organizations have different niches which are being taped into including the long term established relationships with the home districts. JEFORD has a rich expertise in responding to sexual reproductive health rights especially among young people while CCYA's has strong peer to peer approaches to addressing issues surrounding youth and children all of which are in line with Top Notch-

CDI's objectives. The partners have also been able to jointly respond to calls for proposals, some of which are in the process of award and others are pending feedback.

2.5. Fundraising

The team engaged in a rigorous exercise of fundraising during the year. Up to 50 proposals were responded to some of which the grant processes are under finalization.

3.0. Baseline Survey

Top Notch CDI started the process of conducting a baseline survey to be done in four districts of Wakiso, Rwampara, Hoima and Lira. The Key processes have been done that is the Consultant was identified, Inception report was submitted, and the tools are under review. Data Collection will be conducted in 2023. The baseline survey results will be very useful in informing Top Notch- CDI's program interventions as well as the key areas that need to be prioritized.

5.0 Visibility

Top Notch CDI engaged a technical expert to design the organization's website. The website easily comes on the search engines, and this means that the organization can be visible to all searchers who may want to know more about Top Notch CDI. It has been easy for the team to refer different donors to the websites and other social media pages during fund raising. Additionally, All Top-Notch staff have been assigned customised emails to support their day-to-day work. The organization has also embraced the use of social media like Facebook, WhatsApp, and twitter. The organization is active in all the mentioned social media pages.

6.0 Developed different guiding documents.

The team developed different guiding documents including the community entry, mobilization and community engagement model, partnership framework, field support supervision framework, sustainability strategy among others. These tools are key in guiding other organizational processes.

7.0. Different approaches/interventions

Over the year the staff designed different approaches which will aid in responding to Top Notch CDI's objectives and have been the guide for resource mobilization. Master presentations on different models were put together by the team. Key programme areas being covered by Top Notch- CDI are: Water, Sanitation & Hygiene (WASH), Youth Skilling and livelihoods (YOSL), Formal Education (FE), Child Safe Guarding (CSG), Population, Health and Environment (PHE), Prevention of Sexual Harassment, Exploitation and Abuse (PSHEA).

8.1. The PHE Model

9.0. Human Resources.

Over the reporting period, Top Notch-CDI management continued to motivate human resources both at the secretariate and district levels. This was done through providing weekly welfare support to meet the basic needs, weekly check in meetings to share progress and challenges as a way of remaining connected building teamwork and joint problem solving.

Staff after a meeting

10.0 Management, Finance and Administration

Over the reporting period, the Management held meetings to deliberate on the different organizational needs. The team continued to offer timely logistical support to teams to ensure smooth operation of activities in the different field offices as well as at the secretariat. The key issues discussed over the year include; strengthening internal control and accountability, procurement procedures and proper asset management.

11.0 Lessons

- a) The impact of COVID-19 in communities is still noticeable -such as poverty, mental health among others. Communities are still struggling to cope.
- b) Working with partners at district & National level has been useful in building synergies and leveraging on existing resources, this enabled successful set up of field offices, strengthened fundraising activities as well as built capacity of staff.
- c) Staff motivation is important to harness their commitments to their own goals and to those of the organization. This was demonstrated through staff commitment in using their own personal laptops and phones to search for and respond to funding opportunities.

12.0 Challenges and opportunities

Funding remains a challenge to Top Notch CDI and partners, the organization has however been able to run its activities successfully through well-wishers, support from the board and its members, its New Funding Model (other ventures engaged in by associate organizations). The opportunities we have are that we have good will from communities, host districts and partners. Our interventions are relevant and meet the real needs and sentiments of communities we have. Our well wishers and private sector supporting Top Notch have confidence in the organization are expected to continue extending the support to move forward. Top Notch uses evidence to program and will continue to harness this strength to raise resources and implement programmes that are relevant and innovative to impact more lives.

13.0 Recommendation

- a) Top Notch-CDI will moving forward explore partnerships to contribute to the mitigation of the impact of COVID-19 in communities through providing psycho-social support services including addressing poverty, mental health among others issues. Priority will be given to most vulnerable populations such as refugees, refugee host communities and women.
- b) Top Notch-CDI should continue to be vigilant to ensure that communities are prepared for and respond to any outbreaks such as Covid-19 and Ebola to prepare and respond.
- c) Top Notch-CDI should continue to strengthen community, districts, national and district level partnerships to advance the attainment of Top Notch-CDI's vision and mission
- d) Top Notch-CDI should continue to build community resilience for sustainability of project interventions

14.0 Conclusion

The year has been a year of learning to Top Notch CDI's team. Team capacity and their commitment have been key in achieving all that was done. The team has been able to put in place key operational tools which has set momentum for takeoff. The key challenge has been resources and the team are working so hard to fund raise so that the organization's activities can be run smoothly. Our gratitude goes to all stakeholders who made us achieve what we have been able to accomplish during the year.
